ALL OF GALICIA IN REVOLUTION

Country Invaded by a Bolshevik Army of 70,000 Men From Russia

HUNGARIAN SOVIET.

Polish Troop Take Pinsk and Grodno —Allied Troops Withdraw— Missions Leave Budapest.

London, March 27.—"The whole of Galicia is in revolution," said a Bolshevik wireless message from Moscow received here.

Galicia, most of which is in Hungary, was reported invaded by a Bolshevik army of 70,000 from Russia, shortly after the establishment of a soviet government in Budapest, capital of Hungary.

Polish troops have taken Pinsk and Grodno, it was announced. The Bolsheviki are retreating in disorder.

Allied troops have been withdrawn from Szegedin (96 miles southeast of Budapest) and Arad (145 miles southeast of Budapest, according to a Budapest dispatch to Berlin.

A Vienna dispatch to the Berlin Abendpost said all the allied missions had left Budapest with the exception of one American officer.

Premier Lenine, in a wireless message to the Hungarian Soviet government, failed to accept formally the latter's offer of a military alliance, a Budapest dispatch reported.

"We will inform you of our decision at the third international communist congress in Moscow as soon as possible," Lenine said. He declared the advent of the Hungarian Soviet republic caused great rejoicing in Moscow.

DEATH OF B. C. WASHINGTON

Descendant of Brother of George Washington Dies Recently in Columbia, Wash.

Bushrod C. Washington died about two weeks ago at Columbia, Wash. The Spokesman of Seattle contains the following tribute to his memory, written by George S. Brooke, one of its correspondents:

"It was my privilege to know Mr. Washington somewhat intimately from the time he came from Charlestown, W. Va., some 12 years ago. He came with his family to Spokane, following two of his sons, who had preceded him a short time. After living in Spokane several years he removed with his family to a homestead on the Columbia, some 20 miles from Almira, Wash., where he died recently and was buried at Almira by the side of two daughters.

"The death of this historic character seems worthy of more than passing notice. A lineal descendant of Augustine Washington, brother of George Washington, and named after Bushrod Washington, an associate justice of the United States supreme court, he was, as he had a right to be, proud of his lineage, though not boastful thereof. Reared at Charleston, where the Washingtons had large estates, accustomed in his early years at least to the culture, refinement and luxury of the old Virginia home, when near three score and ten he left the scenes of his boyhood and manhood, with all the ties and associations of a life, came to this country, and in his old age located on an undeveloped land claim in a remote and sparsely settled district, with his own hands helping to erect a cabin and doing much of the work on the place. It requires courage to be a pioneer, but at his time of life and with his antecedents courage was heroism.

"Mr. Washington was a splendid type of the old-time Virginia gentleman; alas! fast becoming all too rare —courteous, refined and God-fearing To the last he maintained the old Virginia custom of family prayer and grace at meals, things unknown in many homes in this busy age.

"It is fitting that the remains of Bushrod C. Washington, this worthy representative of so distinguished an American family should rest within the state which bears his name, and the historical and patriotic societies of our state would do well to erect a monument over his grave. Peace to his ashes."

NORFOLK MAN MURDERED

Richard R. Upton Victim of Hold-up—$1,000 Reward Offered For Criminals

Norfolk, Va., March 27.—One thousand dollars reward for the arrest and conviction of the murderers of his brother, Richard R. Upton, who was shot and killed Tuesday night in Ghent, the most exclusive residence district of Norfolk, has been offered by L. J. Upton, Norfolk's millionaire potato king. The police are now working on the theory that Upton was killed by highwaymen after he had refused to give up his money and valuables. The highwaymen, however, failed to get either money, watch or a handsome diamond ring which the murdered man was wearing.

Young Upton was shot and killed within a stone's throw of his apartment shortly before midnight. He ran for some distance after he had been shot and fell on the doorstep of F. U. Massengill, 820 Westover avenue. Mr. Massengill was aroused by the shot and went to his front door, where he found the dying man.

Upton was placed in an automobile and raced to the Protestant Hospital, but died before he reached there. He did not make a statement before he died.

Immediately upon being informed of the murder of his brother, L. J. Upton sent for bloodhounds and two dogs picked up a trail near where young Upton fell and followed it over a course which led to the water front, where it was lost.

Ensign Radcliff, U. S. N., who was going home when he heard the shot, arrived at Mr. Massengill's home just as Mr. Massengill came to his door. The ensign, upon seeing Mr. Massengill, raced after two men whom he said he saw running toward the water front. He lost them in the dark and a few minutes afterwar deame back to where Mr. Upton lay. He described the men he chased as being without overcoats and wearing caps.

The question of securing proper housing facilities for Alexandria's greatly increased population was taken up recently by the Chamber of Commerce and steps were taken to raise a fund of $10c,000 to Start an aggressive building campaign. It is proposed to raise the necessary money in the city. Many business and professional men already have agreed to subscribe to the fund.

MANY CHANGES ARE EXPECTED

M. E. Church South Conference in Session at Staunton

ENDOWMENT FUND.

Effort Being Pushed to Raise $10,000,000 Endowment Fund—The Rev J. R. Andrews Retired.

Staunton, Va., March 27.—Members of the Baltimore Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South which opened yesterday morning in Central Methodist Episcopal Church, South, with one of the largest delegations ever known, are on tip toe with excitement as to rumored changes in the conference appointments. Two Baltimore ministers, the Rev. J. W. Smith, pastor of Alpheus Wilson Memorial Church, and the Rev. T. J. Lambert, pastor of the Central Church, have completed their four-year terms.

A report has leaked out that the Rev. Mr. Lambert will be made presiding elder of the Washington district, in place of the Rev. Dr. H. M. Canter, who will, in turn, be sent to Central Church in Baltimore.

Dr. Luther Todd, secretary of the General Board of Finance, created by the last general conference to raise a $10,000,000 superannuate endowment fund, made a stirring appeal Tuesday night in the interest of retired preachers.

The Rev. J. R. Andrews, pastor of Caernarvon Church, Baltimore, was retired by request this year. Mr. Andrews built the first stone church in Baltimore and has built more churches throughout the conference than any other minister. His retirement will make another appointment open this year.

Dr. H. M. Canter was re-elected secretary at the business meeting Tuesday. His assistants are J. O. Kidner, J. H. Smith, J. H. Haley, W. H. Bast, M. T. Tabler, J. H. Rives and E. W. Aaron Tuesday afternoon was devoted to meetings of the committees and boards. Today will be centenary day. A number of specialists on the subject from Nashville speak.

GOVT. TO COLLECT FOLK SONGS F U. S.

To collect the American survivals of the old ballads—American versions of Old World folk songs—is the object of one of the latest undertakings of the United States Government. This country wide quest for ballads that occupy a conspicuous place in the history of music is significant for several reasons. Obviously, it should produce results of value to practical musicians and to the lay public that is interested in musical history and musical progress. Added to this is the meaning of the movement as indicative of a deeper and more tangible interest in music on the part of our National Government, which, in the estimation of many persons, has heretofore been remiss in this respect.

The search for the old ballads is being prosecuted by the Bureau of Education of the Department of the Interior, in co-operation with Dr. C. Alphonso Smith, the Edgar Allen Poe professor of English in the University of Virginia and founder and president of the Virginia Folk Lore Society. Here is another element that has significance not only in the present instance, but likewise for the future, namely, the manifest willingness of the Federal government to cooperate with individuals and private agencies in movements in behalf of musical progress.

THIEVES PLAY SAFE

Take $26,500 In Liberty Bonds and Cash, Then Cut Wires to Town

Morocco, Ind., March 27.—Approximately $25,000 of Liberty Bonds and $1,500 in cash were obtained by thieves who blew open the vault of the Farmers' Bank here some time Monday night. The bonds were the property of various persons, who had left them in the bank for safekeeping. Although the robbery was discovered when the bank opened yesterday, no notice of it was given outside Morocco until yesterday, because all telegraph and telephone wires to Morocco had been cut.

KILLED BY DRY OFFICERS

Danville Man Loses Life in Battle With Inspectors.

Winchester, Va., March 27.—Raymond Shackelford, aged about 30, of Danville, Va., was killed and L. D. Hudson, about 18, also of Danville, was severely wounded in a pistol battle early yesterday with Virginia prohibition officers, headed by W. C. Hall, when the inspectors undertook to arrest the men and confiscate 20 cases of whisky they had in an automobile near Fisherhill, Va. Hall and his assistants, including H. F. Sweet, Sr., H. F. Sweet, Jr., J. H. Sullivan, J. Doubry and J. Williams, were arrested and are in jail at Woodstock. They will be brought here tomorrow afternoon to testify at the coroner's inquest. Prohibition agents left Winchester last night and stationed themselves along the Valley turnpike, near Cedar Creek, holding up and searching all automobiles that passed. Shackelford and Hudson were on their way from Baltimore to Petersburgh, Va., with 20 cases of liquor, when they were ordered to stop near Fisher hill about 3 o'clock this morning. When Hall made his identity known Shacgelford is said to have put the motor in low gear and endeavored to speed up the pike. The detectives began firing, and it is thought their first bullets struck the occupants of the car.

Shackelford was dead when taken out, two bullets having entered his side and abdomen. Hudson had a wund in his breast and one in his stomach. In a statement made here this afternoon. Hudson declared he did no shooting and that he did not hear or see Shackelford shoot. The former's automatic revolver was filled with bullets and the latter had a fully loaded revolver and a pocket half full of bullets. The men had a receipt showing they had paid about $660 for liquor in Baltimore. Shackelford lived at 503 Halifax street, Danville, and was formerly in the liquor business at Staunton. Several detectives brought the body of Shackelford to an undertaking establishment here and took Hudson to Memorial Hospital. Nurses said they found Hudson lying in a hallway near the main entrance, and that he told them the prohibition agents left him there.

Winchester, Va., March 27.—With Capt. Logan R. Fay in command, the local milita are patroling the streets here today to prevent another demonstration against the prohibition agents who last night killed R. C. Shackelford, an alleged bootlegger, and probably fataly wounded another.

Major J. F. Ward took advantage of the Virgnia law permitting him to order out the military after the demonstration here last night by more than 500 men.

Even If Men Have Discarded Uniform Latch String Hangs Out

ARE ASKED TO ENROLL

Program of Entertainment Now in The Making—Dance Every Saturday Night at Club.

It may not be generally understood but any soldier, sailor or marine whether still wearing Uncle Sam's uniform or has donned the civilian's dress is cordially welcomed at any of the war Camp Community Service Units and entitled to their rights and privileges. To avoid misunderstandings, however, it is suggested that service men now in civilian apparel wishing to avail themselves of these facilities, visit the W. C. C. S., office in the Elks' Building for the purpose of enrollment and receive a card or button which when exhibited will admit him at any and all times to the entertainments, dances and all other community service hospitalities of Alexandria. At the War Camp Community Service Headquarters, occupying the Elks' Building, F. L. Ryan, recently a lieutenant in the service, has been appointed club director and will be happy in the work of making all of Alexandria's club facilities, comfortable and enjoyable for the men both in and out of uniform.

Programs are in the making for billiard and pocket billard tournaments, other matches in chess, checkers and round table games can be arranged as the facilities of the building are well adapted to the carrying out of any amusement features in keeping with conservative and respectful outlines.

The regular dance given under the auspices of the W. C. C. S., every Saturday night is a popular occurrence among the men and the W. C. C. S. dancing club offers amusement for all.

A dance for the tobacco fund for the men stationed at Fort Myer is soon to be given at the hall, and tickets at fifty cents will soon be on sale by Miss Lyda McLaughlin, assisted by the girl members of the W. C. C. S. Dancing Club.

GERMANY FEELS PEACE IS NEARER THAN EVER

Berlin, March 27—With the arrival of the first American food ship yesterday and the conference of German financial experts at Weimar today preparatory to going to Versailles Sunday, Germany seems to feel that peace is nearer than at any other time.

The feeling of depression which had been growing in every part of the country at the continued disorders and the increasing Spartacan riots lifted at least slightly at the news that concrete results finally were at hand after much waiting.

Peace has been long in coming, the blockade has been tight and the food relief has been slow in arriving so that in many sections of Germany there was a feeling almost akin to despair. Some parts of Germany have relapsed into a cynical state of mind making it almost impossible to make them believe even now that some relief is in sight.

German newspapers in the last few days appartntly have reflected public opinion in their accounts in large black type of the coming of food ships These announcements continue, but they share prominence with the still vague reports of German participation in the peace negotiations.

WOODMEN'S RATES GO UP

Recent Influenza Epidemic Affected Fraternal Insurance Organization

Chicago, March 27.—More than a million members of the Modern Woodmen of America, largest fraternal insurance organization in the country, had their rates increased yesterday to meet the abnormal death losses resulting from the influenza epidemic, which caused a reduction in the beneficiary fund of the order from $12,000,000 to $700,000.

On the present membership the increase is a flat advance of 50 per cent and all new members joining hereafter will have to pay materially increased rates.

VERBAL CHANGES IN LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Principles, However, Will Not Be Altered, It Is Learned

RECOGNIZE RIGHTS.

Amendment Specifically Guarantees Monroe Doctrine Without Naming Its Charge Repnted.

Paris, March 27.—The league of nations covenant, which was taken up by the commission again yesterday, will be entirely changed in verbiage, when it is next presented to a plenary session, it is learned on reliable information.

Principles of the league will not be altered, namely, maintenance of peace through a community of interests among nations, without impairing the sovereignty of any nation. But recognition of sovereign rights will be more strongly defined.

Unless some other government objects—which is now believed to be unlikely—the revised constitution will carry an amendment that will specifically guarantee the Monroe doctrine, without naming it.

So as further to insure maintenance of the national sovereignty, it is possible the final draft will carry a clause similar to that in the American Constitution which declares that all powers not specifically delegated to the Federal government shall be reserved to the State.

In this state powers not delegated to the league naturally would be reserved to the nations.

Discussions also are in progress regarding the time limit in which a nation can present notification of its withdrawal from the league.

By extending the necessity for unanimity of decisions by the house of delegates, which is now planned, it is felt that Senator Borah's charge that the British would dominate the league through their colonies is met.

Under such a voting arrangement, America's three votes would be just as effective as those of Great Britain.

When the Republicans storm of criticism broke the correspondents were given clearly to understand there would be no general amendments to the covenant. It was stated all questions had been thoroughly threshed out and the best method of phraseology decided on so as to suit all powers.

Further, it was pointed out that if the door were open to amendments there would be such a flood of them that the covenant never would be completed.

Objections to non-inclusion of the Monroe Doctrine were met by the statement that if this were permitted all other powers would endeavor to make exceptions in their own interests.

A feeling is manifest that the covenant as it now stands covers all the points raised in the various objections, but in the desire to meet all criticism, certain amendments are now being made.

POTOMAC RIVER TRADE

Three propositions for consideration of business men were brought by the committee of the Chamber of Commerce of Alexandria to the joint conference with similar committees of the Chamber of Commerce and Board of Trade of Washington, at the rooms of the Board of Trade yesterday. These propositions were increase of transportation facilities by addition of boats upon the Potomac, promotion of manufacturing on the Potomac between Washington and Alexandria, and the deepening of the channel to accommodate large steamships, first to Alexandria and then to Washington.

Transportation on the Potomac river at present is at a lower ebb than at any time in the recollection of the oldest inhabitant. Back in the olden time—the latter part of the fifties of the last century—more satisfactory facilities existed than at present. The old steamer Columbia made weekly trips to river landings and Baltimore, while another steamer, the Diamond State, was engaged in the same trade. In 1860 another steamer—the St. Nicholas, which played a prominent part in the early part of the civil war,—was added to the fleet. In addition to these boats the steamer James Guy, made regular trips between Washington, Georgetown, Alexandria and points on the river.

In the early seventies five steamers were operated on the Baltimore river routes—the Columbia, Express, Charlotte Vanderbilt, Georgeanna and Wawasett. The four first-named made trips to Baltimore.

Up to a few years ago the most difficult part of the Potomac river for navigators was the Kettle Bottoms, about seventy miles south of Alexandria. A channel with twenty-five feet of water was dredged through four miles, and navigators at present are merely required to steer between buoys, and not in a serpentine course, as before.

The Alexandria river front, as well as that of Washington, have long since lost commercial animation. We never could understand why such conditons exist. The capital of the United States, situated upon a noble river, should by all means have a port. The capital of the British nation is situated on a river which bears no comparison to the Potomac, and London is the greatest port in the world.

The growth of the port of Washington would aid much to the commercial importance of Alexandria's river front.

THE CASE OF GERMANY

There has ever been a disposition on the part of a certain class in this world to express sympathy for the under dog, no matter how exasperating the actions of the defeated one may have been. At present some whose bowels of sympathy are always moving with excuses for vanquished ones think the allies should be moderate in their claims upon a nation which started out to loot the world. Germany is now the under canine, with the British bull dog at her throat and the other allies attempting to bring this deluded nation to itself. The Baltimore Sun in this connection says that "while the debate with Germany was being conducted with swords the issues were clear cut and thoroughly understood on both sides. Each realized what defeat involved. If the great German offensive of last year had been sucessful, if the Allies had been beaten and driven from French soil and France had passed under the yoke, we know what would have happened. No one was under any illusions as to what Germany's "peace" terms to France would have been. She seized French territory and French iron mines after the Bismarckian war, and exacted an immense money indemnity for the trouble to which France had put her by resisting Teutonic ambition. If 1918 had closed with the German imperial colossus bestriding France from one end to the other, Germany would long before this have put France in chains. The organized and brutal system of tyranny that made life in the French areas occupied by the Germans a hell for mind and body, which attempted to soil and degrade the soul as well as the flesh, would have been extended to every part of French territory. Even if the whole of France had not been permanently annexed to the German empire, it would have been made an industrial and political vassal. With regard to these "peace" terms there was very little difference in the views of the Kaiser, Ludendorff and the Junker crowd and Socialists of the most radical types. They differed in theories of social philosophy, but when it came to practical matters, they were in perfect agreement. War was war, and victory meant loot. The old Roman slogan—vae victis—(woe to the conquered) was their battle cry, and it meant what it said."

JUVENILE BROILS

Judges of the Washington Police Court are complaining of the time consumed in settling fights between boys and neighborhood jars, the outcome of fistic encounters between juveniles. So annoying has this become that some who preside in this court openly express themselves in favor of allowing the youngsters to fight it, out and suggest that parents keep out of court with such cases.

During the past few months the patience of both Judge Hardison and Judge McMahon in the Washington Police Court has been sorely tried on this question. Judge Mullowny and Judge Pugh, when they sat on the bench in the Police Court, had the same trouble.

Recently six different persons faced the court charged with assaulting some neighbor's child. In every case the parents had interfered with "kid" fights.

The advice from the court is this —"Teach, or compel your children to do some of their own fighting. Do not embarrass yourself or your neighbors by taking up for your children when they are to blame for starting a fight, and then coming into court.

There have been, within a recent period, some rather serious assault cases in the capital city growing out of the interference of parents with their children's difficulties.

The experience of those who have presided in the Police Court of Alexandria is similar to that of the Washington judiciary. And there are no cases Police Court judges are called upon to decide which are dreaded so much as juvenile fights or neighborhood broils. It takes but a few minutes to learn that it is a case of six of one and half a dozen of the other. Loquacious females who at times engage in battle of words with neighbors over back fences often appear in court. The complainant is generally the woman who has come out second best in the argument. To decide such cases to the satisfaction of all concerned would require more than a wit of a Philadelphia lawyer

Young people often start small blazes which bring about serious results. It is said that a war between two nations was started by a boy leaving a gate open. It is carelessness brought on trouble between the parents of the careless juvenile and other adults which spread into a factional fight and later kindled the fires of war.

NOT LOOKING FOR WORK

A dispatch from London says the million workers are idle in Great Britan. But the fact does not mean that there is no work for 1,000,000 who should have jobs.

"Many people at present idle could get work if they liked," says the secretary to the National Union of Manufacturers of London. "They prefer leisure at present.

The newspapers tell us that many thousands of former United States soldiers are without employment in this country at present. The question is pertinent. Are such really looking for work, or are they pretending to seek something they do not want to find?

We naturally esteem our young men who braved the perils of the Atlantic to get to France and showed themselves valiant in the fiercest clashes of war ever known in the history of the globe. But such should not attempt to pass the remainder of their years resting upon laurels. At the close of our internal struggle, fifty-four years ago, the survivors of the Army of the Potomac and the Army of Northern Virginia returned to their homes where they were joyfully received. The larger percentage got out of their uniforms as speedily as possible and went to work. General Fitzhugh Lee, it will be remembered, planted corn as speedily as possible and grew a large crop in 1865. A small percentage, however, never made good after the war. They whiled away their time talking of little else than war experience and the issues which brought on that conflict. In the meantime their former comrades were at work and prospering.

COMFORT, YE THIRSTY ONES. NATURE HATH PROVIDED SUBSTITUTE FOR BOOZE!

Even though the bone dry law is now in effect, nature has come to the aid of the thirsty "Sons of Rest."

Instead of the amateur(gareners devoting his time exclusively to spring vegetables, he will help mother with the lawn this year, as there is a little plant growing out on the lawn that will yield rich returns.

Ignored, considered almost an outcast by many who knew nothing of its rare qualities, it will now be cultivated so that it will grow in great profusion, for secreted in its tiny petals is to be found the nectar of the gods.

After being put through the proper process, it will yield a wine beyond the dizziest dreams of the thirsty.

After partaking liberally of this delicious beverage, a man will no longer walk into a drug store and put his feet on the bottom rail and sigh reminiscently as he sips faked imitation, and say, "Them was the days."

Gentlemen, the golden dandeloin swayeth in the gentle breeze.

"GRIEF" OF BERLIN BURIED IN ORGIES

Berlin, March 27.—The man who comes to Germany in the expectation of finding a nation moping in abject repentance will be disappointed. At least, if he makes Berlin his field of observation.

Counting the amusement advertisements on the theatrical page of the Berliner Tageblatt shows.

Theaters, 33; vaudeville and cabaret shows, 11; fancy dress balls, 5; permanent circus, 1.

Then there are approximately 1,000 moving picture houses now in operation, several concert halls, and countless public dance halls, foremost among which is the gorgeous Palais Du Dance, on Behrenstrasse, in whose gilded, glittering salons Berlin's tango lizards foregather with elegantly, but scantily gowned ladies of the demi-monde amid the popping of champagne corks at $30 a pop. A long row of luxurious automobiles and soft-cushioned carriages, all privately owned, await the revelers in front of the palais.

To all these attractions must be added cafes without number, all filled to capacity, in spite of exorbitant prices.

Owing to coal shortage (which incidentally does not prevent Berlin hothouses from supplying a vast market with a fine variety of rare flowers,) the motion picture houses close at 9 p. m. and at 9.30 the lights go out at the cafes and restaurants.

But that does not mean turning out the guests. Favorite patrons are allowed to carouse until 2 or 3 o'clock in the morning.

But the picture has a reverse. On the north side of Berlin live the millions of toilers and unemployed who are wasting away from want and starvation. Here, daily, 5,000 famished men and women, in tattered clothes and yawning shoes, may be seen standing in line at any horse-meat market, the farthest from the door hoping against hope that there will be a few ounces left when their turn comes.

MANY KILLED IN EGYPT

More Than 2,000 Houses Sacked By Mobs—Railway Stations Burned

Cairo, Egypt, March 27.—The official reports of the riots in Egypt show that 2,000 houses in villages were sacked. On March 14 several British soldiers were murdered and a mob sacked and burned the stations at El-Rekkah and El-Wasta. On March 15 the express from Cairo was pillaged and several trains were sacked. An employe of the State Railway was murdered.

On March 16 the mob raided the police station at Minie Camp and released prisoners. It then attacked the station and the military picket was obliged to fire. Thirty natives were killed and 19 wounded. Several thousand natives attacked the station tank and the troops and police were obliged to fire. Twenty-two natives were killed and 50 wounded.

The disorders in Cairo were checked with the least possible emplyment of force. Altogether 69 natives were killed and 8 wounded her. The behavior of the Cairo police was excellent.

Washington, March 27,—Internal conditions in Egypt have been greatly improved, according to dispatches to the State Department. Quiet has been restored in Cairo and Alexandria and the lines of communication north of Cairo which had been interrupted have been reopened. An adequate system of patrol is said to have been placed.

The department's advice said practically all of the railway stations in the Minufia district had been destroyed. The Bedouins had been very active especially in the Betheral province and near Komamada. Disorderly mobs under the instigation of agitators, systematically carried on a campaign of destruction and looting.

The agricultural bank at Saff was reported to have been sacked and burned by a mob. Patrol airplanes fired upon by the rioters retaliated with machine gun fire and with bombs inflicting heavy casualties.

RAVAGES OF DISEASE

Shocking Hardship and Suffering Endured by Imprisoned Northerners

Montreal, March 27.—From St. Johns, N. F., comes news of shocking conditions as results of epidemic of influenza, smallpox and measles which swept the coast during the winter.

It is estimated that 50 per cent of the inhabitants died, and that only 400 persons are left alive in the area from Grosswater Bay to Nain. The full extent of the calamity will not be known until the opening of navigation in the coming summer.

Earlier in the season, reports of deaths in the Southern section of the coast showed that over 25 per cent of the natives succumbed. The first reports from the Northern section were received today.

From Grosswater Bay to Nain the epidemic raged for four months. At Nain forty Newfoundlanders, who wintered on the coast for purposes of trade, succumbed, and forty-odd Esquimaux also died.

The survivors dug a pit into which they threw the bodies without shroud, coffin or burial rites, about 100 being disposed of in this manner. On the island in the vicinity of Okak, fifteen people who went there for sealing, died and the bodies were devoured by dogs.

Most appalling conditions are expected to be disclosed when the ice barrier permits investigation. Medical aid was unobtainable in the frozen regions.

BESSARABIA QUITS RUSSIA

Proclaims Independence and Establishes Soviet Republic—Reds Behind Move.

Warsaw, March 27.—Bessarabia has proclaimed its independence, established a soviet republic and begun an offensive against the Roumanian army of occupation, a dispatch from Chotin announces.

Bessarabia was a former province of Russia, bordering Roumania on the northeast. It has been claimed and occupied by Roumania.

The Bessarabian army has captured the important town of Sodagora and is pushing the Romuanians across the Bruth river toward Largu.

The belief was expressed here that the Russian Bolsheviki are engineering the Bssarabian campaign for the purpose of establishing direct communication between Moscow and Budapest.

M. Liskim heads the new Bessarabian government.

Chotin is in Bessarabia, fifteen miles east of Lemberg. Largu is in Roumania, 100 miles southwest of Chotin.

STOP RATTLING THE SHAD

Fishemen's Device Let None Escape For Spawning.

Milford, Del., March 27.—The use of "rattlers" for catching shad has been started along the bay shore, and wardens descended upon the fishermeh this week and caught several using this method. By using a hugh rattle the fish are driven into a bunch, noise coming from a number of boats, and then a net is run across the river while the fish are driven into it by this method. None are allowed to go up the river to spawn, resulting in considerable decrease of the fish in the past.

FARM PROFITS WILL AID LOAN

Rural Business Men Are Well Able to Take Up Their Share in the "Victorious" Fifth.

More than ever before the American farmer finds himself in the position of comfort and prosperity which is his just due. Lean years are for him no longer. Last year the average of farm earnings broke all records. Six million farms in 1918 produced crops worth $12,280,000,000.

This year it is estimated that a greater wheat acreage than ever will be sown. Naturally, the farmer is making the most of his opportunities, and with guaranteed wheat prices and high prices for everything he grows, the outlook for him is most encouraging. And Europe will furnish a market for his fat hogs and steers.

It would be interesting, if possible, to assemble comparative statements of the farmers' bank accounts now and five years ago, and the list of mortgages that have been cancelled. And it would be more interesting perhaps to have a statement of the Liberty Bonds now in the hands of these tillers of the soil.

Very soon the farmer will have further opportunity to prove that he is not without loyalty as well developed as any man's. For another loan is almost in sight, a loan that will draw upon us all.

Because of his price guarantee of $2.26 a bushel, Uncle Sam stands to lose from 50 to 75 cents upon every bushel of wheat harvested next season. Having given this guarantee to the farmer, he will make it good. That is Uncle Sam's way. But what is Mr. Farmer going to do for Uncle Sam in the Victory Liberty Loan?

In every Liberty Loan to date the farmer, as a class, has bought less bonds than men in other prosperous classes. He has been able meantime to get more sugar and everything else upon which the government put a restriction, than others have.

The big question now, when he stands to cash in at a 25 per cent premium upon his wheat crop, is what is he going to do next Liberty Loan drive?

Some Liberty Loan officials are suggesting that the farmer should buy a $100 bond for each 100 bushels of wheat he sells to the government. He has made the profit and should have no hesitancy in taking a high-grade security in payment for the difference between what the government gets and what he receives for his wheat.

UNFILLED PLEDGES STILL HOLD GOOD

Earnest Request is Made to All Subscribers to Redeem Promptly Their War Savings Stamp Pledges.

Pledges made to invest in War Savings Stamps have been automatically extended to 1919 by the government, which has made official announcement that persons who, for any reason, did not complete their pledges by December 31, 1918, may and are expected to liquidate these pledges by investing in War Savings Stamps of the new 1919 issue.

The 1919 War Savings Stamps are blue in color and a trifle smaller than those issued last year. They bear a likeness of Benjamin Franklin, the apostle of thrift and economy. The 1919 War Savings Stamps which yield their owners four per cent interest, compounded quarterly, may be obtained from any postoffice, bank, or other authorized agent.

Thrift Stamps and Thrift Cards used last year remain in use during 1919, and filled Thrift Cards, that is, Thrift Cards on which sixteen Thrift Stamps have been affixed, may be exchanged for 1919 War Savings Stamps upon the payment of the few additional cents which represent the difference between the price of War Savings Stamp and $4, the value of the sixteen Thrift Stamps.

Purchasers of 1919 War Savings Stamps should bear in mind that 1919 War Savings Stamps are to be affixed only to 1919 War Savings Certificates. Although one may have a 1918 War Savings Certificate (the parchment on which War Savings Stamps are affixed) which has unfilled space on it, such 1918 certificate should not have 1919 War Savings Stamps pasted on it; nor should 1918 War Stamps be placed on the new 1919 War Savings Certificate. Keep the two years separate.

MUST MEET EVERY DEBT

The war will not be over until the United States Government has honorably met every commitment made in order to win the war.

WHY ONE MORE LOAN IS NEEDED

It Will Settle Nation's War Debts and Will Care for Sick and Wounded.

Once in a while some one asks: "What's the need of another Liberty Loan now that the war is over?"

Revenue from taxes will not be sufficient to pay all the bills, so the people will be called upon to provide the money by subscribing to government bonds. This money is going to pay off the army of producers at home—the farmers, merchants, manufacturers and others.

America had just begun to fight when the Hun decided it was time to quit. Allied leaders expected the war to last another year and the United States government was turning out ships, arms, ammunition and food to overwhelm Germany in one big drive.

Treasury officials have revealed that in 1919 America would have had a tank at the front for every seventy-five feet of line. We would have had ten tons of mustard gas ready for shipment for every ton Germany could produce. Thousands of batteries of guns would have been in action for every one America had in 1918. Everything else was being produced in proportion.

This gigantic preparation brought an early end to the war and saved thousands of lives. Victory Liberty Bonds will pay for this work which had been contracted for and was being delivered when the armistice was signed.

There are other purposes for which money is need. Part of our army of 2,000,000 men must be kept in Europe until the peace treaty is signed. These soldiers must be fed, clothed and otherwise maintained. Then they must be brought home.

The sick and wounded must be cared for in hospitals. The army must be demobilized. There are thousands of maimed soldiers, heroes of the great war, who must be taught self-supporting trades and given an opportunity to earn their living.

This reconstruction work at home must be carried on. The job must be finished. The American people who furnished the money to win the war must supply it also to bring the nation back to a peace basis.

HOLD ON TO WAR SAVINGS STAMPS

Secretary of Treasury Urges Citizens to Keep Government Securities Until They Shall Have Matured.

Carter Glass, Secretary of the United States Treasury, has issued a warning to patriotic American citizens against unscrupulous persons who advertise that they are willing to purchase War Savings Stamps. Mr. Glass does not wish to have the government securities sold at sums below their actual value.

He points out that people who are actually in need of money may take their War Savings Stamps to a post office and receive cash. Mr. Glass urges holders to keep their stamps until maturity.

He states that War Savings Stamps belong only to the individual who first purchased them and that people who offer to buy stamps at low premium are violating the letter of the law in so doing. Men and women selling stamps are not only losing money which rightfully belongs to them, but are aiding unscrupulous agents to reap profits.

BE PREPARED.

If you think you are not, you don't;
If you like to win, but you think you can't;

RED CROSS GIFTS $400,000,000

War Council on Retirement Announces Cash and Supplies Contributed.

WORKERS WILL "CARRY ON."

Five Big Societies in World Wide Plan. H. P. Davison Heads International American Red Cross Commission. Dr. Livingston Farrand Permanent Leader of Peace Organization.

Washington.—(Special.)—Henry P. Davison as chairman issues the following statement on behalf of the War Council of the American Red Cross:

"To the American People:

"The War Council of the American Red Cross appointed by President Wilson on May 10, 1917, to carry on the work of the American Red Cross during the war, at their request and by vote of the Central Committee, ceased at midnight, February 28.

"Immediately the armistice was signed the War Council instituted studies to determine when the strictly war work of the organization would have been sufficiently matured to enable the direction of affairs to be resumed by the permanent staff. Henry P. Davison, being in Paris when the armistice was signed, summoned a conference there of the heads of all the Red Cross Commissions in Europe to canvass the situation. After considering all the factors it was concluded to make the transition on March 1. The very fortunate choice of Dr. Livingston Farrand as the new chairman of the Central Committee, and thereby the permanent chief executive of the Red Cross, makes possible the consummation of this plan under the most favorable conditions.

Accounts Audited by War Department.

"Detailed reports to Congress and a complete audit of its accounts by the War Department will constitute the final record of Red Cross activity during the war. Although it has been the rule to make public all expenditures when authorized and to give detailed information relative to all work undertaken, the War Council in turning over its responsibilities to Dr. Farrand and his associates desire to give a brief resume of Red Cross war time activities to the American people, to whom the Red Cross belong, and whose generous contributions have made possible all that has been accomplished.

"During the past nearly twenty-one months the American people have given in cash and supplies to the American Red Cross more than $400,000,000. No value can be placed upon the contributions of service which have been given without stint and oftentimes at great sacrifice by millions of our people.

"The effort of the American Red Cross in this war has constituted by far the largest voluntary gifts of money, of hand and heart, ever contributed purely for the relief of human suffering. Through the Red Cross the heart and spirit of the whole American people have been mobilized to take care of our own, to relieve the misery incident to the war, and also to reveal to the world the supreme ideals of our national life.

"Everyone who has had any part in this war effort of the Red Cross is entitled to congratulate himself. No thanks from anyone could be equal in value to the self satisfaction everyone should feel for the part taken. Fully 8,000,000 American women have exerted themselves in Red Cross service.

Has Over 17,000,000 Adult Members.

"When we entered the war the American Red Cross had about 500,000 members. Today, as the result of the recent Christmas membership Roll Call, there are upwards of 17,000,000 full paid members outside of the members of the junior Red Cross, numbering perhaps 9,000,000 school children additional.

"The chief effort of the Red Cross during the war has been to care for our men in service and to aid our army and navy wherever the Red Cross may be called on to assist. As to this phase of the work Surgeon General Ireland of the U. S. Army recently said: 'The Red Cross has been an enterprise as vast as the war itself. From the beginning it has done those things which the Army Medical Corps wanted done, but could not do itself.'

"The Red Cross endeavor in France has naturally been upon an exceptionally large scale, where service has been rendered to the American Army and to the French Army and the French people as well, the latter particularly during the trying period when the Allied World was waiting for the American Army to arise in force and power. Hospital emergency service for our army in France has greatly diminished, but the Red Cross is still being called upon for service upon a large scale in the great base hospitals, where thousands of American sick and wounded are still receiving attention. At these hospitals the Red Cross supplies huts and facilities for the amusement and recreation of the men as they become convalescent. Our Army of Occupation in Germany was followed with Medical units prepared to render the same emergency aid and supply service which was the primary business of the Red Cross during hostilities. The Army Canteen service along the lines of travel has actually increased since the armistice.

"As for work among the French people, now that hostilities have ceased, the French themselves naturally prefer as far as possible to provide for their own. It has accordingly been determined that the guiding principle of Red Cross policy in France henceforth shall be to have punctilious regard to its every responsibility, but to direct its efforts primarily to assisting French relief societies. The liberated and devastated regions of France have been divided by the government into small districts, each officially assigned to a designated French relief organization.

"The American Red Cross work in France was initiated by a commission of eighteen men who landed on French shores June 13, 1917. Since then some 9,000 persons have been upon the rolls in France, of whom 7,000 were actively engaged when the armistice was signed. An indication of the present scale of the work will be obtained from the fact that the services of 6,000 persons are still required.

"Our American Expeditionary Force having largely evacuated England, the activities of the Red Cross Commission there are naturally upon a diminishing scale period. Active operations are still in progress in Archangel and Siberia.

"The work in Italy has been almost entirely on behalf of the civilian population of that country. In the critical hours of Italy's struggle the American people, through their Red Cross, sent a practical message of sympathy and relief, for which the government and people of Italy have never ceased to express their gratitude.

Supplies and Personnel to Near East.

"The occasion for such concentration of effort in Italy, England, Belgium and even in France having naturally and normally diminished, it has been possible to divert supplies and personnel in large measure to the aid of those people in the Near East who have hitherto been inaccessible to outside assistance, but whose sufferings have been upon an appalling scale. The needs of these peoples are so vast that government alone can meet them, but the American Red Cross is making an effort to relieve immediately the more acute distress.

"An extensive group of American workers has been dispatched to carry vitally needed supplies, and to work this winter in the various Balkan countries. In order to co-ordinate their activities, a Balkan commission has been established, with headquarters at Rome, Italy, from which point alone all the Balkan centers can be reached promptly.

"A commission has just reached Poland with doctors and nurses, medical supplies, and food for sick children and invalids. An American Red Cross Commission has also been appointed to aid in relieving the suffering of Russian prisoners still confined in German prison camps.

"An important commission is still working in Palestine. Through the war special co-operation has been given to the Armenian and Syrian Relief Commission, which was the only agency able to carry relief in the interior of Turkish dominions.

Red Cross Will Continue.

"Red Cross effort is thus far flung. It will continue to be so. But the movement represented by this work has likewise assumed an intimate place in the daily life of our people at home. The army of workers which has been recruited and trained during the war must not be demobilized. All our experience in the war shows clearly that there is an unlimited field for service of the kind which can be performed with peculiar effectiveness by the Red Cross. What its future tasks may be it is yet impossible to forecast. We know that so long as there is an American army in the field the Red Cross will have a special function to perform.

"Nothing could be of greater importance to the American Red Cross than the plans just set in motion by the five great Red Cross societies of the world to develop a program of extended activities in the interest of humanity. The conception involves not alone efforts to relieve human suffering, but to prevent it; not alone a movement by the people of an individual nation, but an attempt to arouse all people to a sense of their responsibility for the welfare of their fellow beings throughout the world. It is a program both ideal and practical. Ideal in that its supreme aim is nothing less than verifable 'Peace on earth good will to men,' and practical in that it seeks to take means and measures which are actually available and make them effective in meeting without delay the crisis which is daily recurrent in the lives of all peoples.

"For accomplishing its mission in the years of peace which must lie ahead of us the Red Cross will require the ablest possible leadership, and must enjoy the continued support, sympathy, and participation in its work of the whole American people. It is particularly fortunate that such a man as Dr. Livingston Farrand should have been selected as the permanent head of the organization. The unstinted fashion in which all our people gave of themselves throughout the war is the best assurance that our Red Cross will continue to receive that co-operation which will make its work a source of pride and inspiration to every American."

Mr. Davison, as chairman of the International Commission of the American Red Cross, has undertaken to represent the American Red Cross in the preparation of the program for extended Red Cross activities, and will spend the next several months in Europe in consultation with other Red Cross societies for that purpose.

FORMER KAISER WILL NOT TALK "YET."

Rumors That He Visited Amsterdam Yesterday Are Unfounded.

Amerongen, Holland, Wednesday, March 26 (by the Associated Press. —Replying to a renewed request today for an interview, former Emperor William sent this verbal message:

"I am sorry I cannot change my attitude in connection with making a public declaration. The time has not arrived for me to speak."

Numerous inquiries were made here today with regard to rumors that the ex-emperor had paid a visit to Amsterdam yesterday. These rumors were absolutely unfounded. The only person from the castle who has been in Amsterdam recently was Court Marshal von Gontard, who bears some resemblance to Herr Hohenzollern.

LIFE THREATENED 29 TIMES.

Marcosson Tells Audience I. W. W. Are Still Active in U. S.

Louisville, Ky., March 27.—"So active are the I. W. W., with the the German bolshevists in this country, that my life has been threatened twenty-nine times in the past three months because of my warnings in western cities against this menace," Isaac Marcosson, war correspondent and lecturer, declared in an address here recently. Marcosson said that he was in Petrograd when Lenin first launched bolshevism with German gold, and warned that "if America follows Kerensky's policy of trying to placate these vipers we will have bolshevism here in a most surprising fashion."

MR. WILSON CHEERS SUFFRAGISTS

Cables Best Wishes and Hope For Success to Women at St. Louis Convention.

St. Louis, Mo., March 27.—The following message from President Wilson at Paris was read at the session of the National American Woman Suffrage Association convention here today:

"Best wishes for convention. I earnestly hope suffrage amendment will soon be adopted.

(Signed) WOODROW WILSON."

Primaries for the selection of candidates to serve on the national executive board consumed the greater part of today's forenoon session of the convention. How laws defining the legal status of women can be unified and improved and how women can assist the movement toward social morality and hygiene were the subjects for discussion at the afternoon session.

CASES OF TUBERCULOSIS IN SERVICE ESTIMATED

The federal board for vocational education has announced that it has learned there will be between 30,000 and 40,0000 tuberculosis cases among discharged soldiers, sailors and marines. The federal board for vocational training expects to reclaim a large number of them.

The Canadian treatment, which has been found successful, will be followed in this country. The system explodes to a certain degree the old idea that persons suffering from tuberculosis must do outdoor work. According to the board, a great variety of indoor occupations can be followed with safety to the patient, provided living and working conditions are proper.

MUST STICK TO WIFE

Plea of Octoengarian for Annulment is Deuled.

New York, March 27.—Justice Benedict in the Supreme Court in Brooklyn denied Monday the application of James Hervey Hart, 86 year old retired Brooklyn jeweler, for annulment of his marriage to Mrs. Katie Wolf Hart, who was 18 years old when he married her and is now 19. Hart based his suit on his alleged impaired vigor.

"This case," said Justice Benedict in his decision, "is said to be the first of its kind in the history of jurisprudence. Without indulging in philosohy or moralizing, I hpoe it will be the last."

VIRGINIA WOMAN INHERITS

Mrs. R. B. Murphy Only Relative of Man Who Prized Pictures Above Money

Philadelphia, March 27.—Traveler, writer and art connoisseur, William Alan Cunningham elected to live and die as a pauper at the Blockley Almshouse rather than part yesterday went under the hammer at the Philadelphia art galleries for the benefit of his estate, to be inherited by his sole remaining relative, a cousin, Mrs. R. B. Murphy, of Virginia.

Mr. Cunningham was the last of his family, and was born in this city. He remained a bachelor all his life, and at his death it was found that Mrs. Murphy, the wife of Colonel R. B. Murphy, was his only kin. The deceased had been splendidly educated, and was left a substantial fortune and much of the present art collection as the heir of his uncle, for whom he was named.

FOLDING BED KILLS BABY

Roomers . Unfasten Catch . When Mother is Away.

Charleston, W. Va., March 27.—Lyman Paul Eastwood, 2-year-ld son of Harry Eastwood, of this city, was killed when the folding bed on which it was sleeping last night closed.

Mrs. Eastwood had put the baby to sleep and hurried to a neighbor's home where a baby girl had been born.

During her absence two roomers in the Eastwood home entered the room where the baby was asleep, released the clasp that held the davonette and sat down to talk. A half hour later the mother returned, opened the folding bed and found the child's body. The child had smothered without making an outcry.

A box containing $135 in silver money left on a southbound electric train Tuesday afternoon by James Dougherty was found by Conductor J. W. Mason and turned into the Royal street office and soon restored to the owner.

123, HE HAS SON 103

Veteran of 1812 Upsets Pretensions of Another Aged Gent

Claiming to be 123 years old, a soldier of the War of 112 and cabin boy for Sir John Franklin on his first Polar expedition, John Drysdale of Lettsville, Greenbrier county, amazed Bluefield folk with his stories while on a recent visit.

The aged man was agitated over newspaper reports to the effect that Levi Bond of Lost Creek, aged 103, was West Virginia's oldest citizen. "Why, I have a son that old," declared Drysdale, "and had fought through one war before that fellow Bond was born."

Drysdale said he was born in Scotland, which country he left when 7 years old, to come to America. Becoming a sailor when but a lad, he said he led a seafearing life for 75 years, in the course of which he visited every port in the world.

He told a thrilling tale of a Polar expedition, during which, he said, his ship was ice-bound for a year, never sighting land during that time.

Drysdale attributes his many years to the salt sea breezes, although he came from a long-lived ancestry, his father, he said, living to be 120 years old.

Among his children, he declared he has a son in Scotland more than a hundred years old, while another son in Canada was 97. —New York Journal.

Ingomar—"The One Woman."

The Mastercraft production of Thomas Dixon's vivid novel, "The One Woman," will be presented by Select Pictures at the Ingomar Theatre tonight. The story of "The One Woman" concerns the career of Frank Gordon, a brilliant young clergyman, who forsakes his wife and home to follow a career of socialism. When he is expelled from his church, Gordon enlists the services of Kate Ransom and later divorces his own wife in order to contract a common-law marriage with this woman. As time passes Gordon is supplanted in his own temple by radicals, even losing the love of Kate Gordon to another man. Heartbroken, and with all of his ideals smashed, Gordon kills the man who has won his common law wife. When he is convicted and sentenced to prison for life, his former wife begs his release and takes him back.

RICHMOND THEATRE

A breezy comedy, with a slight dash of serious drama, is "Experimental Marriage," which will be the feature at the Richmond tonight. Constance Talmadge is the vivacious central figure. Taken from William J. Hurlburt's play, "Saturday to Monday," it satirizes in an entertaining fashion the modern fads. The girl of the story enters into a trial marriage in which she will see her husband, for only three days in the week, and the results of the experiment are thoroughly amusing.

A Harold Lloyd comedy also will be shown.

GRAND THEATRE

Patrons of the Grand Theatre will have an opportunity to become acquainted with more of the Huns' devious methods in tricking American citizens in "The Reckoning Day," starring Belle Bennett and J. Barney Sherry, which will be shown tomorrow.

"The Reckoning Day," is based on an actual incident which occurred in Washington, D. C. To divert money which was being donated to war charities by patriotic high society, agents of the Kaiser established fraudulent charity institutions and collected thousands of dollars.

Uncle Sam got on the job and made short work of the Kaiser's despicable tools.

Also a comedy.

State Department of Health Urges Early "Swatting" Campaign Against Disease Bearers.

The mildness of the past winter will be responsible for more than the usual swarm of flies this summer, according to the State Board of Health, which is asking for an early "swat the fly campaign."

Health authorites have insisted for a number of years that a minimum of typhoid fever can be had only by vigorous warfare on the house pest, to which they attribute all forms of summer disease.

Hardware stores have been asked to co-operate by laying in a full supply of fly traps and other devices for doing away with the disease bearing insects.

GIRL ABUSED BY MOTORISTS

Rescued From Attack by Men Who Offered Her Lift in Machine.

Chester, Pa., March 26.—While tenants on Goverpor Sproul's estate, in Nether Providence township, heard the screams of a young woman for help, late Monday night, and ran out to investigate, they saw an automobile on the road and two men struggling with a girl, who was trying to break away from them.

Joseph Pierc ran to the girl's aid and the two men jumped into the car and fled toward this city. Pierce escorted the girl to his home, where she collapsed from fright. Her clothing was torn and her mouth bleeding from the men's efforts to prevent her fro mscreaming. She told Pierce that her name was Virginia Caskeat and that she lived in South Media. The girl said she had spent the afternoon and evening in Chester and started to walk to the car to go home when the two men, one of whom she knew, came along in the automobile and she accepted an offer to take her to Media. On reaching the edge of this city she realized that the men did not mean well, and insisted on going on alone. Her desperate efforts to jump from the car while it was in motion were restrained and when she cried out she was gagged with the fingers of one of the men. She spent the night with Mrs. Pierce, who administered to her needs temporarily. A warrant will be issued for the man recognized by the young woman.
